- Congratulations, dear Palackal Yawsep Kathanar for bringing in that much needed clarity on 'Bar Mariyam'. It is evident that the text goes back to 16th century and the reasons for Bar Mariyam losing popularity among the Northists is something that requires further research. At the same time, it is not surprising that those who have been claiming exclusive ownership over 'Bar Mariyam' are raising objections. I don't think that there is an attempt to snatch away this beautiful hymn from Southists- instead we all should welcome and be glad that the Hymn belongs to the common heritage of East Syriac Churches. Reviving Syriac is a noble yet thankless endeavour and in the process, it is imperative that we do some re reading and relook into claims that have assumed mythical proportions. I am sure that Palackal Yawsep Kathanar will keep striving for the restoration of Aramaic/ Syriac (the results are already felt with the increasing number of Youtube videos and the rising demand for Syriac Hymns and Sung Syriac Qurbana) and May Alaha continue to shower His blessings upon him. - Amel Antony - May, 2022
